The Sutherland Inquiry Jun 25 2019 The Sutherland Inquiry, (HCP 62, session 2008-09, ISBN 9780102958393), is an independent inquiry remitted by the Office of the Qualifications and Examinations Regulator (Ofqual) and the Secretary of State for Children, Schools and Families, into the delivery of the National Curriculum tests in 2008. In July 2008, 1.2 million pupils heard that their National Curriculum test results would be delayed. The test delivery service represented a failure in customer delivery service, to the pupils, schools and also the markers upon whom the National Curriculum testing regime relies. The primary responsibility must therefore rest with the American organisation, ETS Global BV (ETS), which won the public contract to deliver the tests and failed its customers. This report examines how this organisation secured the contract, what its plans were, and why its systems and process as a whole were not properly tested. The report will also describe how ETS's systems failed during the test delivery process. There was also a failure on the part of the Government's Non-Departmental Public Body, the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority to deliver its remit. The report also sets out the procurement process that QCA used to select its delivery supplier, ETS, and how it managed the contract. The report sets out a number of recommendations on how test delivery can improve in future years, and has set out a number of key priorities, including: that the delivery process of the National Curriculum tests should be modernised and improved, in consultation with the marking community, including piloting online marking; that whatever process is used should be thoroughly piloted and project managed to ensure schools and pupils get their results on time; that the customer service provided to markers must be vastly improved to ensure that they are properly supported and are able to access up-to-date information.

Ks3 English Sep 28 2019 This new edition of the highly successful KS3 Total Revision book has been updated in line with the latest tests. It continues to provide the most comprehensive approach to exam success with its unique combination of study support and exam practice. It also contains the latest Test Marker's comments. The first three sections of the book revise the most important skills and help students focus on the types of questions and tasks they will meet in each of the three test papers. The last two sections make sure students are fully prepared for the actual test with practice questions, sample answers and marking guidance. To make this book flexible and easy to use at home, the content has been divided into a number of short revision sessions taking about 30 minutes to complete. Each revision session has a 'Hints panel' which provides practical advice on how to answer test questions and score the best possible marks.
